

The Curious Case of Secret Box

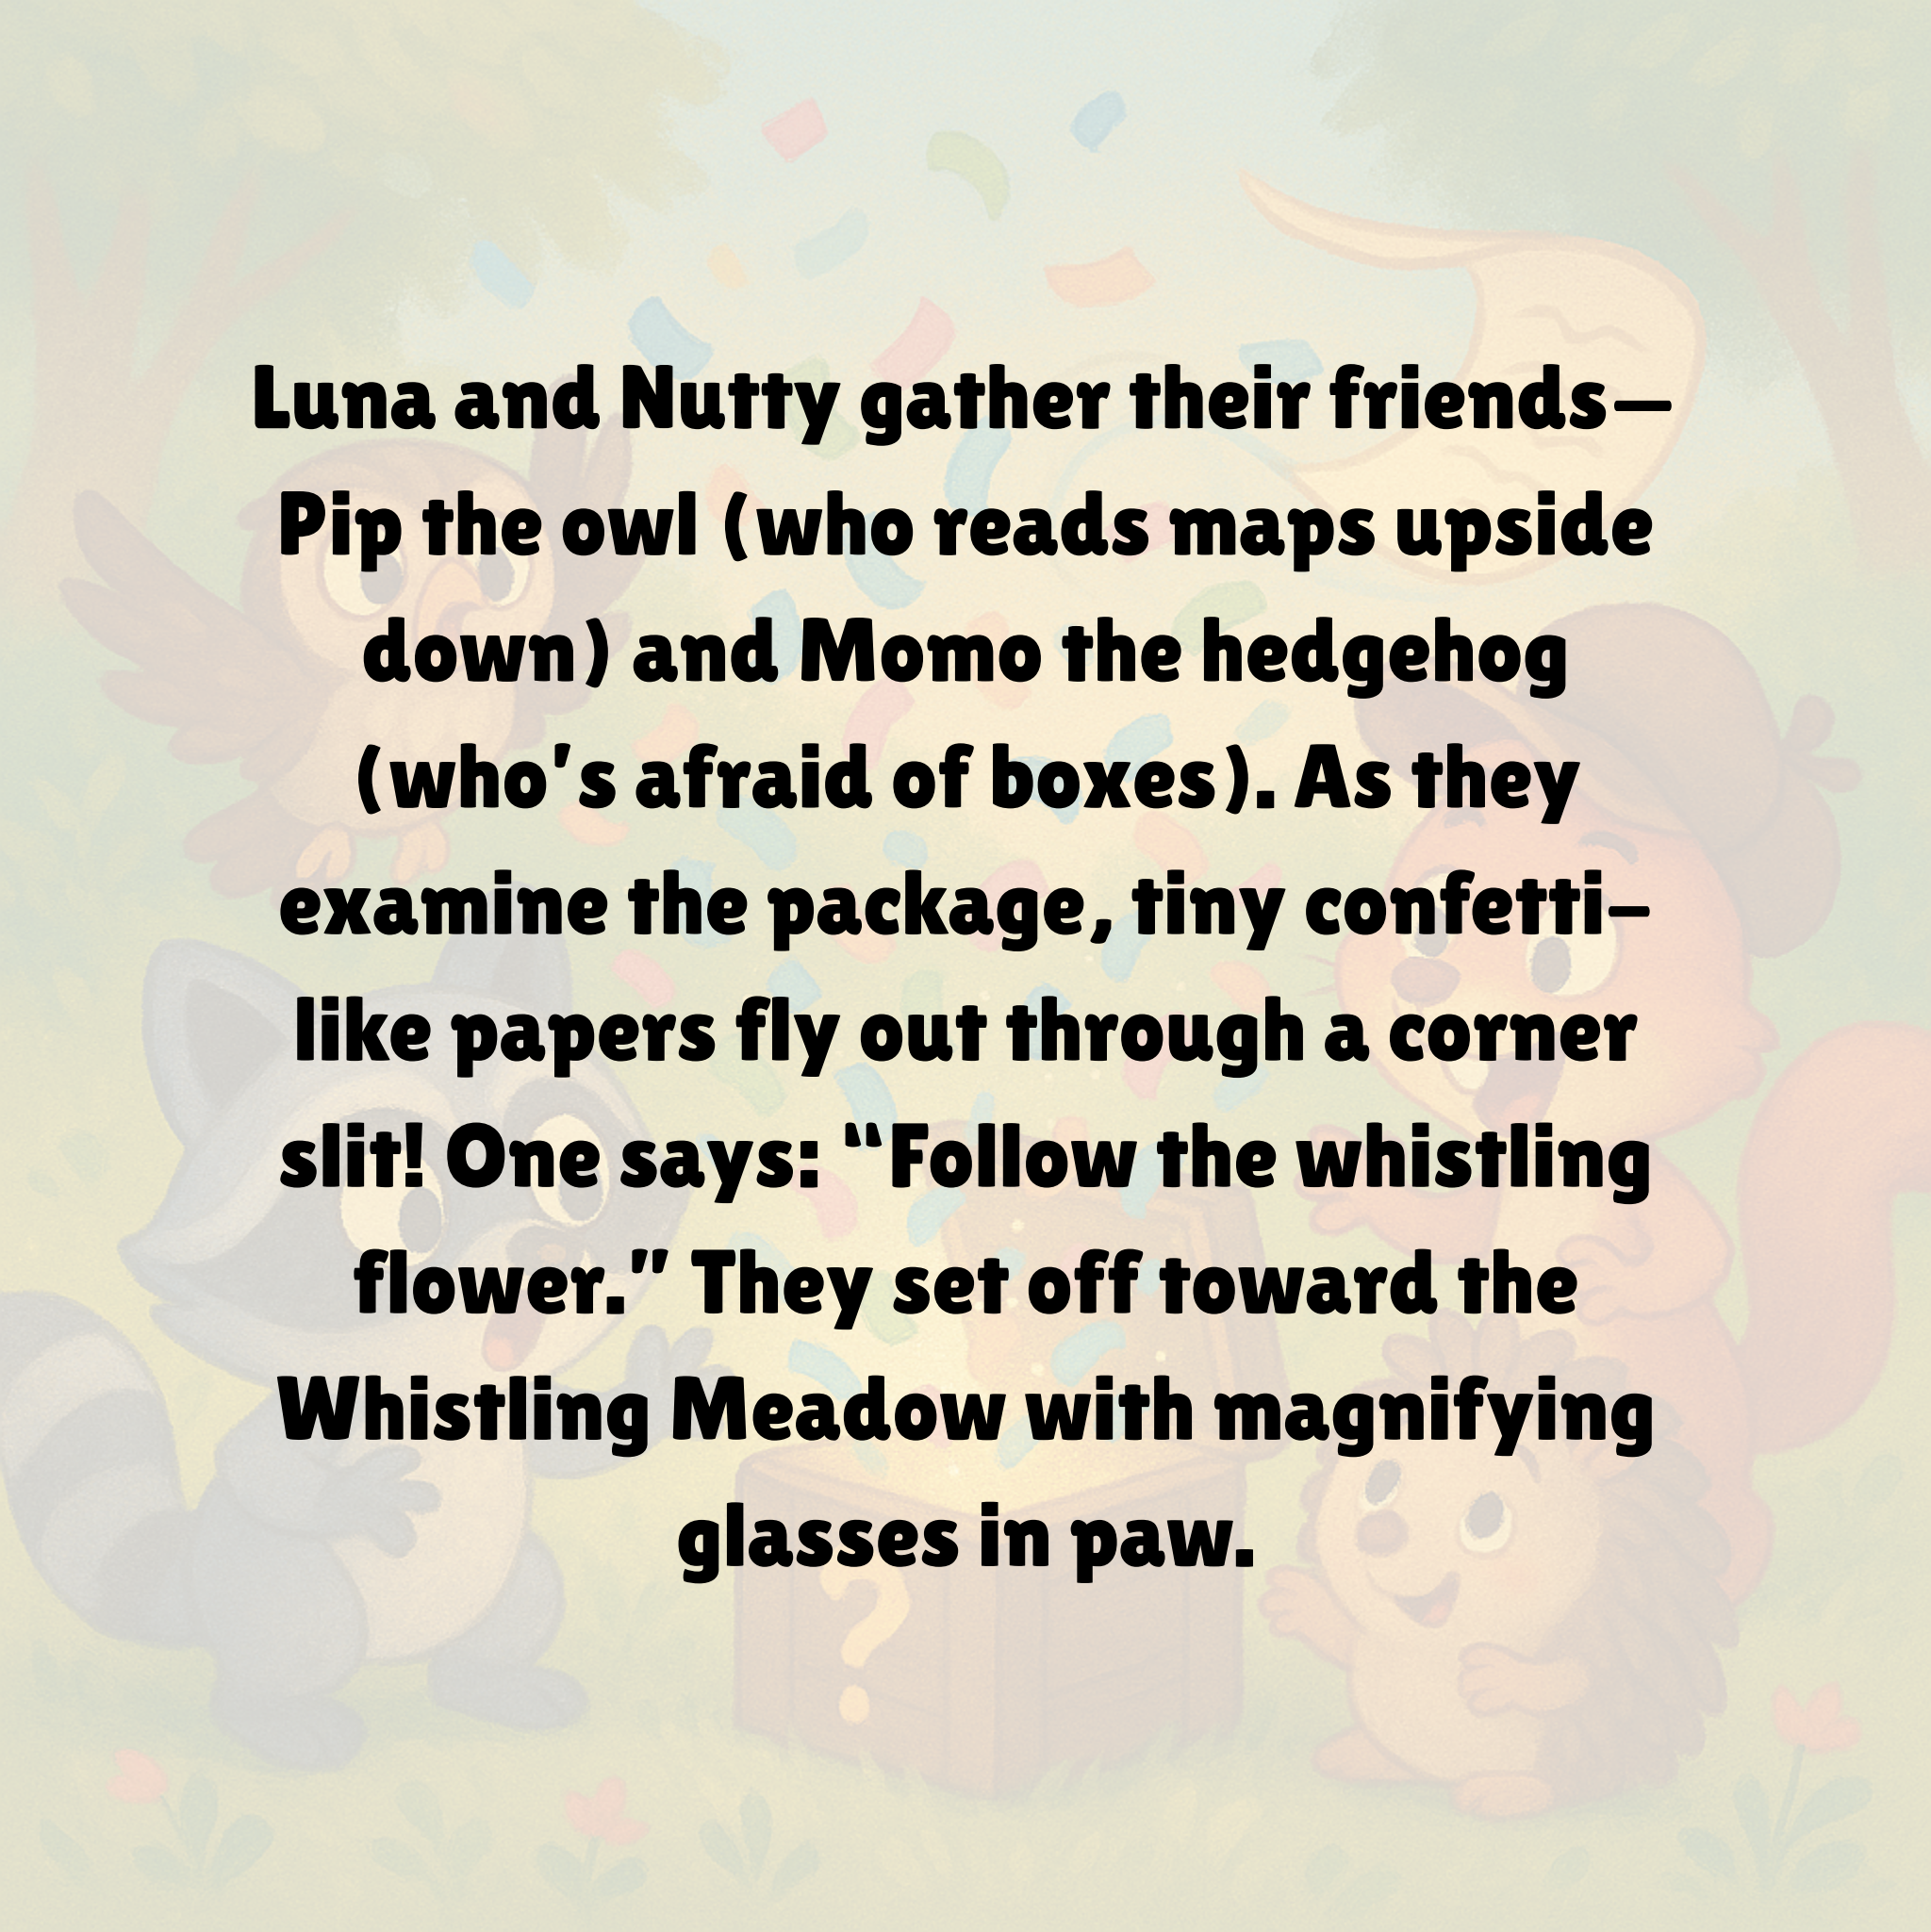

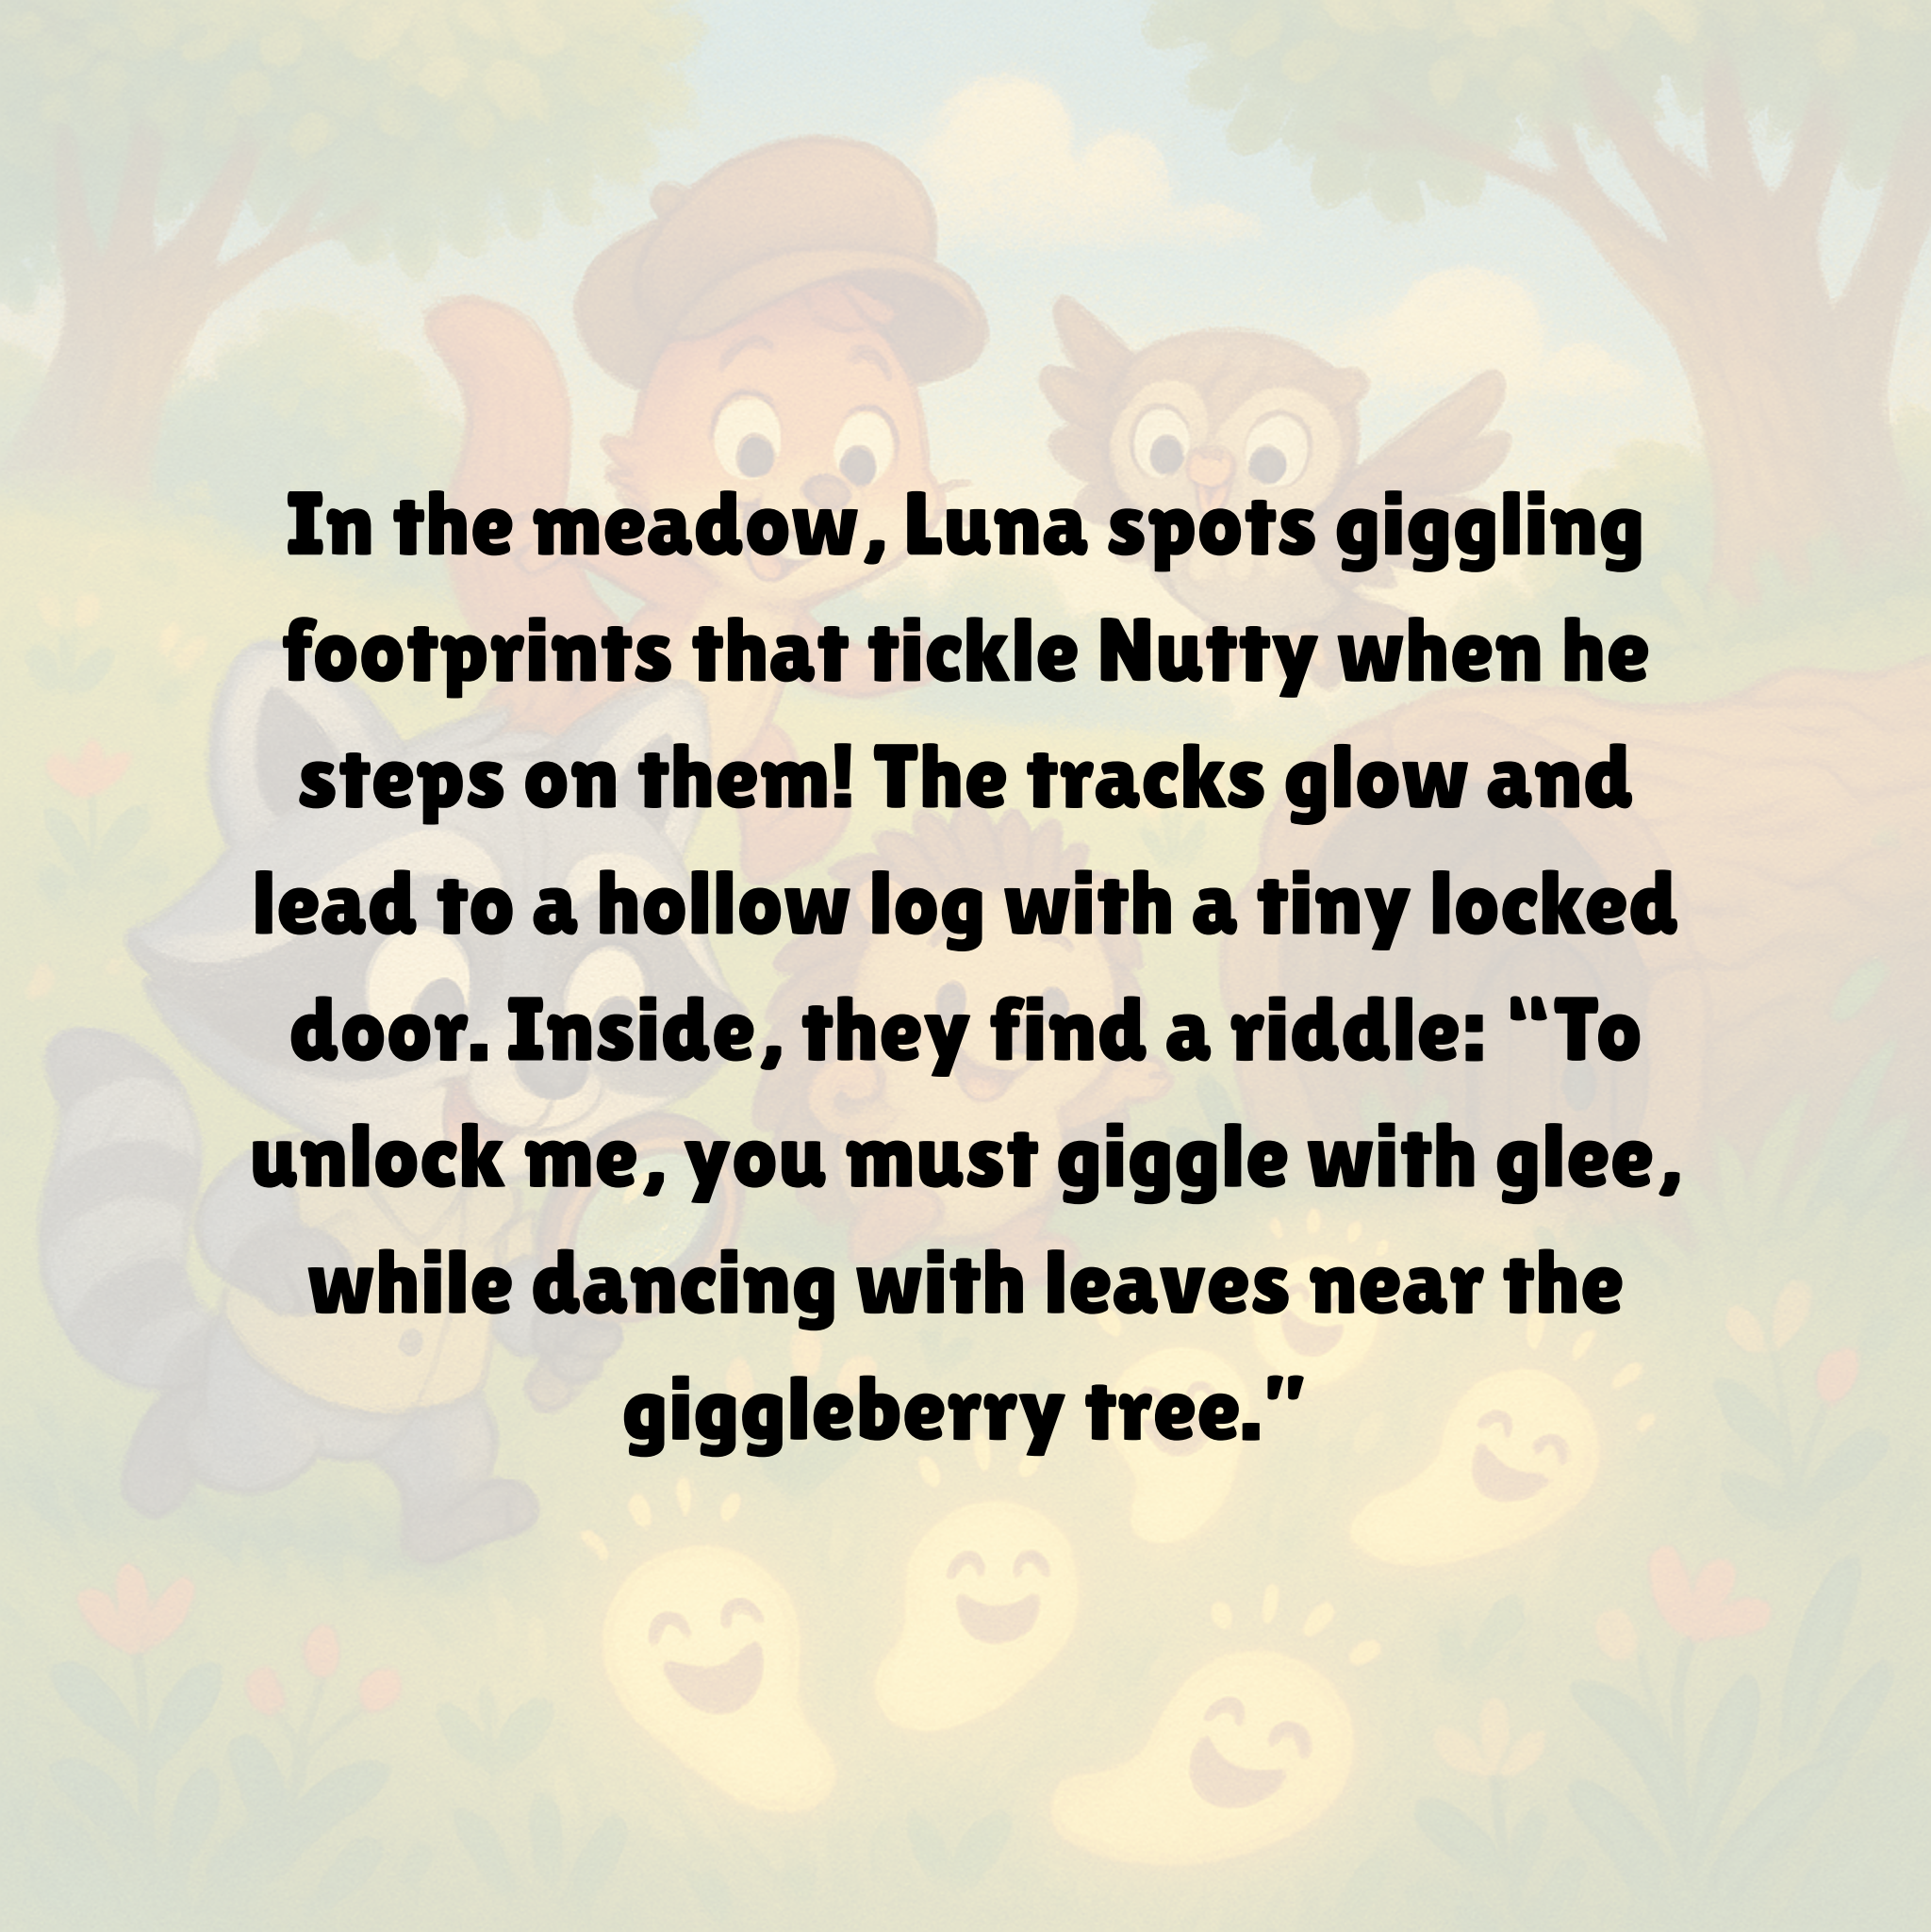

Luna, a bubbly raccoon detective, and her clever best friend Nutty, a squirrel with a detective hat too big for his head, are sipping lemonade on their treehouse porch. Suddenly, a mysterious box wrapped in brown paper arrives with no name, no return address—just a question mark sticker. The box rattles, glows, and hums... but won't open!

Luna and Nutty gather their friends—Pip the owl (who reads maps upside down) and Momo the hedgehog (who's afraid of boxes). As they examine the package, tiny confettilike papers fly out through a corner slit! One says: "Follow the whistling flower." They set off toward the Whistling Meadow with magnifying glasses in paw.

In the meadow, Luna spots giggling footprints that tickle Nutty when he steps on them! The tracks glow and lead to a hollow log with a tiny locked door. Inside, they find a riddle: "To unlock me, you must giggle with glee, while dancing with leaves near the giggleberry tree."

The gang performs the silliest dance imaginable—Pip twirls, Momo trips, Nutty tosses leaves in the air while Luna makes snorty–laugh sounds.
Suddenly, a key falls from the tree!
It’s glittery, shaped like a donut, and smells like strawberries. They race back to the log and retrieve... another
box. But this one has their names on it.

Each character opens their mini-box inside the bigger one. Inside: a memory from a past adventure—a feather, a leaf, a doodle, and a button.

There's also a final clue: "The best mysteries are made... not found." Pip gasps. "This is from... US?! Remember the time we made a mystery for fun
last summer and forgot to open it?"

They burst into laughter. The box was their own forgotten surprise time capsule! Inside the lid, scribbled in crayon, it reads: "To Future Us. Never stop playing, wondering, and being the best detectives in the world." They seal it again—with a new memory—and hide it in the sky bridge for next summer.

MORAL OF THE STORY

Some mysteries
are just reminders
of the magic we've already made.

Sticker Sheet 1

Sticker Sheet 2 for story

GIGGLE

