

THE SKY GARDEN ADVENTURE

Luna was a curious little girl with a backpack full of snacks and dreams. One windy afternoon, a sparkling map floated down from the clouds and landed on her head! It showed a garden... in the sky! Luna grabbed her rainbow boots and zoomed off to find it. Along the way, she met a chatterbox squirrel named Nutty who decided to tag along, mostly for the snacks.

To reach the sky, Luna and Nutty had to bounce across a bridge made of giggling clouds. Each bounce made the clouds giggle louder and higher! Nutty accidentally flipped upside-down mid-jump, causing a belly-laugh chain reaction that nearly sent them flying. After lots of silly jumps and a couple of acrobatics, they landed safely in the fluffy Cloudy Woods.

Inside the Cloudy Woods stood a tall, twisty tree with leaves that whispered secrets. The tree told them to "follow the glowing butterflies," who knew the way to the sky garden. Luna thanked the tree with a hug, and Nutty tried to high-five a butterfly. They followed the glowing trail, giggling and dodging floating puffball bees who just wanted to dance.

The butterflies led them to a bubble fountain. "One wish per bubble," a sign read. Luna and Nutty jumped into the biggest bubble they could find, shouting, "Take us to the garden!" WHOOSH! The bubble lifted them into the air like a wobbly elevator. Nutty spun in circles while Luna peeked over the edge and saw all of Dreamville below.

The bubble popped (gently) and dropped them onto a magical floating island covered in candy-colored flowers and trees made of glowing leaves.

Creatures of all kinds lived there—singing birds, dancing turtles, and a shy dragon named Ploop. The garden was losing its glow, but Luna realized the map had a final note: "Bring laughter, bring light!" So Luna and Nutty threw the silliest dance party ever!

With every giggle, the flowers shimmered brighter. Ploop even smiled and blew heart-shaped smoke rings. The garden came back to life because Luna and Nutty brought joy and friendship. As a reward, the garden gave Luna a blossom that whispered dreams at night. Luna waved goodbye, promising to visit again.

A whimsical illustration of a girl with red pigtails, a squirrel, and a green dragon sitting under a large tree with glowing leaves. The girl is wearing a yellow shirt and rainbow boots. The squirrel is holding a nut. The dragon has orange wings. The background is a warm, golden glow.

Moral of the Story

Joy and kindness can bring color to the world—just like laughter brings life to a garden.

Sticker Sheet 1

Sticker Sheet 2

